LOCATION

The property is situated around half a mile to the east of Newcastle city centre. The property is on the A186 Westgate Road which links Newcastle city centre to the A1 and the A69 around 3 miles to the west of the city. Newcastle has a full range of city amenities including Main Line Rail and Metro links to other parts of the region and country. Newcastle also has an International Airport around 8 miles to the north west of the city centre. The A186 intersects with the A189 St James Boulevard to the south. St James Boulevard is also one of the main road accesses to the city centre from the A1 junction with the A184 to the south.

This part of Westgate Road is in an area of mixed land uses with prominent retail units along the ground floor with a mixture of offices and residential accommodation above. To the north of Westgate Road the site of the former Newcastle Brewery is under construction as a joint venture between Newcastle University and Newcastle City Council. This 24 acre site is a location for science, business, living and leisure, known locally as Helix (newcastlehelix.com/about).

The subject property is situated on the north side of Westgate Road in amongst other properties of a similar age and construction.

DESCRIPTION

The property comprises a mid-terraced four storey building. The main walls are of solid brick construction and the roof is pitched with a slate roof covering which has been recently renewed. The property provides a ground floor retail area and on the upper floors is a spacious 6 bedroom flat with reception room, kitchen and 2 bathrooms.

Planning permission was granted for the conversion and the building was extensively refurbished in 2014 (Planning Permission Ref. 2014/0709/01/DET).
